Art Unit: 1618

Claims 1-13 and 18-20 are presented for examination.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-13 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brazzell (U.S. 2003/017375). Brazzell teaches the use of the claimed compounds in a pharmaceutical formulation for the treatment of choroidal neovascularization, retinal neovascularization, macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy and ischemic retinopathy. See claims 14-17.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by the WO 98/35958 for the reasons set forth on page 5 of the office action of December 23, 2004.

Applicant's arguments and remarks regarding claims 18-19 have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. To use an old composition in a squeezable container does not create a patentably new composition regardless of the differences in use of such compositions. The difference in the intended use does not create a patentably distinct composition.

The prior art submitted by the applicant necessitates a new ground for rejection.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Zohreh A. Fay whose telephone number is (571) 272-0573. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday 9:30-6:00.
